Engelhart to Heart Talks September 5, 2006

Romeo is out in the village of Donkoi holding a week-long meeting for the school-age children. The village has no school so the children are sent away during the school year to other villages out of the reach of our ministry. Please pray that many of these young people would be reached with the gospel and be disciplined before they go back to school in November.

Colleague Matt Litson is on the field now overseeing the works. Please pray for his effectiveness and security.

Andrew has been at Bible college for two full weeks now and is adjusting well. He is in pastoral studies and is using his music skills, playing piano and cornet. He has an upperclassman roommate who intends to do an internship in Africa next summer. Please pray for the Lord to lead them in the center of his will.

Please pray as we continue meetings this fall, and that we might increase our support level.

Yours for the Ivory Coast,

Bob & Margie Engelhart
